MS WILLIAM WORDSWORTH · THE DANUBE'S IMPERIAL CITIES AND YULETIDE MARKETS · DEPARTING 30 NOVEMBER 2026

An important update on your festive holiday

Thank you for choosing to spend part of your festive season with us. Your holiday departs on 30 November as booked and still runs for six days, and Bratislava and Vienna are untouched. What has changed is either end of the holiday. Water levels around Budapest have fallen too low for your ship to reach the city, so you will spend your first and last nights aboard the MS Riviera Radiance in Budapest, and join the MS William Wordsworth at Gonyu on the afternoon of day two.

WHY YOUR HOLIDAY HAS CHANGED

The Danube is running low on the stretch around Budapest, and the MS William Wordsworth cannot reach the city. The weather of the past few days has not helped: much of the precipitation has fallen as snow rather than rain, so it is lying on the ground rather than feeding the river.

Rather than shorten your holiday, we have brought the MS Riviera Radiance into Budapest to look after you at both ends of it. She is moored in the city and stays there, so the levels are not an obstacle for her, and we will take you up to meet the Wordsworth at Gonyu on the afternoon of day two. River levels move in both directions and we watch them daily, so we will tell you promptly if anything else alters.

Guests also have the option to embark the MS William Wordsworth on night one and coach to Budapest on day two for the guided tour.

YOUR SHIPS, AND WHERE YOU JOIN THEM

You have two ships on this holiday, with the first and last night in Budapest. You board the MS Riviera Radiance on arrival and she is your home for the first night, moored in the city. On the afternoon of day two you travel by coach to Gonyu and join the MS William Wordsworth, who carries you through Bratislava and Vienna. On day five you leave her at Gonyu, take the coach back to Budapest and return to the MS Riviera Radiance for your final night. Your luggage is taken care of on both of the days you move between ships, and we will confirm your cabin on each of them in writing.

Alternatively, you can board the MS William Wordsworth in Gonyu on night one.

YOUR ITINERARY, DAY BY DAY

Coaching and rail times are shown where they are new. Days three and four carry the excursion programme they booked.

Day 1	Arrive in Budapest and board the MS Riviera Radiance, moored in the city, for your first night. Dinner is on board. Budapest is at its most beautiful in late November, and the ship stays moored overnight, so the evening is yours. Vörösmarty Square holds one of the finest Christmas markets in Europe, with mulled wine and freshly baked chimney cake, and the market at St Stephen's Basilica glows against the lit façade of the church. Coaching: Airport to the ship, around 45 mins Alternatively, guests can board the MS William Wordsworth in Gonyu. Coaching: Airport to the ship, around 1hr 15mins
Day 2	Morning option 1: a panoramic tour of Budapest, seeing the city from both banks of the Danube, from the Parliament building on the Pest side to the views down from the Buda hills. Morning option 2: an active guided walk of the Castle District, through the cobbled streets of Buda's historic heart to Matthias Church and the Fisherman's Bastion, looking back across the river to Parliament.

	Afterwards you have free time for the Christmas markets and for shopping, and lunch is served on board the Radiance for anyone who would rather eat there. In the afternoon you travel by coach from Budapest to Gonyu, around an hour and fifteen minutes, where the MS William Wordsworth is waiting. Coaching: Budapest to Gonyu, approx. 1hr 15mins
Day 3	A free morning sailing up to Bratislava, then the guided tour of the old town, the fortress above it, St Martin's Cathedral and the Primate's Palace, and free time at the Christmas market on the main square, where the stalls sell potato pancakes and poppy seed strudel. The ship then continues towards Vienna.
Day 4	Vienna, as booked: the morning guided tour along the Ringstrasse, with the walking tour of the old town as an option, then a free afternoon among the city's markets, from the great one in front of the Rathaus to the handicrafts and toys at Schönbrunn. The Chef's Dinner on board that evening, followed by a classical string quartet.
Day 5	This morning you leave the MS William Wordsworth at Gonyu and take the coach to Budapest, a comfortable run of around one hour and fifteen minutes. The afternoon in Budapest is yours, as booked, with the Vörösmarty Square market there for a second look, and you spend the final night back on board the MS Riviera Radiance. Coaching: Short transfers at each end of the rail journey Coach: Gonyu to Budapest, approx. 1hr 15mins
Day 6	A final breakfast on board the MS Riviera Radiance, then disembark in Budapest.
